Egypt Protests Attack Of Israeli On Syria

Nasser Tells U.N. Egypt Will Use Army To Insure Safety

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt told the U. N. Thursday night he considered the Israeli attack on Syria last Sunday an attack on Egypt as well.

He charged increasing Israeli aggression on Arab countries and said Egypt "is bound to deal with this situation herself" with armed force to insure her safety.

Nasser stated this position in a letter to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold asking him to "convey this message to the members of the Security Council."

Afghans Give Soviet Leaders Cool Reception

KABUL, Afghanistan (AP) — Snow and a comparatively cool reception greeted Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party leader Nikita S. Khrushchev when they arrived Thursday on the last stop of their Asian tour.

Afghan Premier Mohammed Daud and a guard of honor were at the airport, but nowhere were there the roaring crowds which had greeted the Russians in India and Burma.

In keeping with the Afghan government's apparent intent to play down the visit, flags and bunting appeared belatedly on public buildings Thursday.

In a brief speech at the airport, Bulganin said Russia "knows Afghanistan is increasingly following a policy of neutrality while seeking peace." He declared conditions exist "for expanding and strengthening Afghan-Soviet relations."

Observers here said the quiet reception was planned because the government did not wish to spark the latent anti-Russian feeling traditional among Afghans. The government wants close Russian ties, these sources said, but does not want to appear a Soviet satellite.

On at least one wall someone had painted: "Soviets go home."

MIDEAST SITUATION AT-A-GLANCE

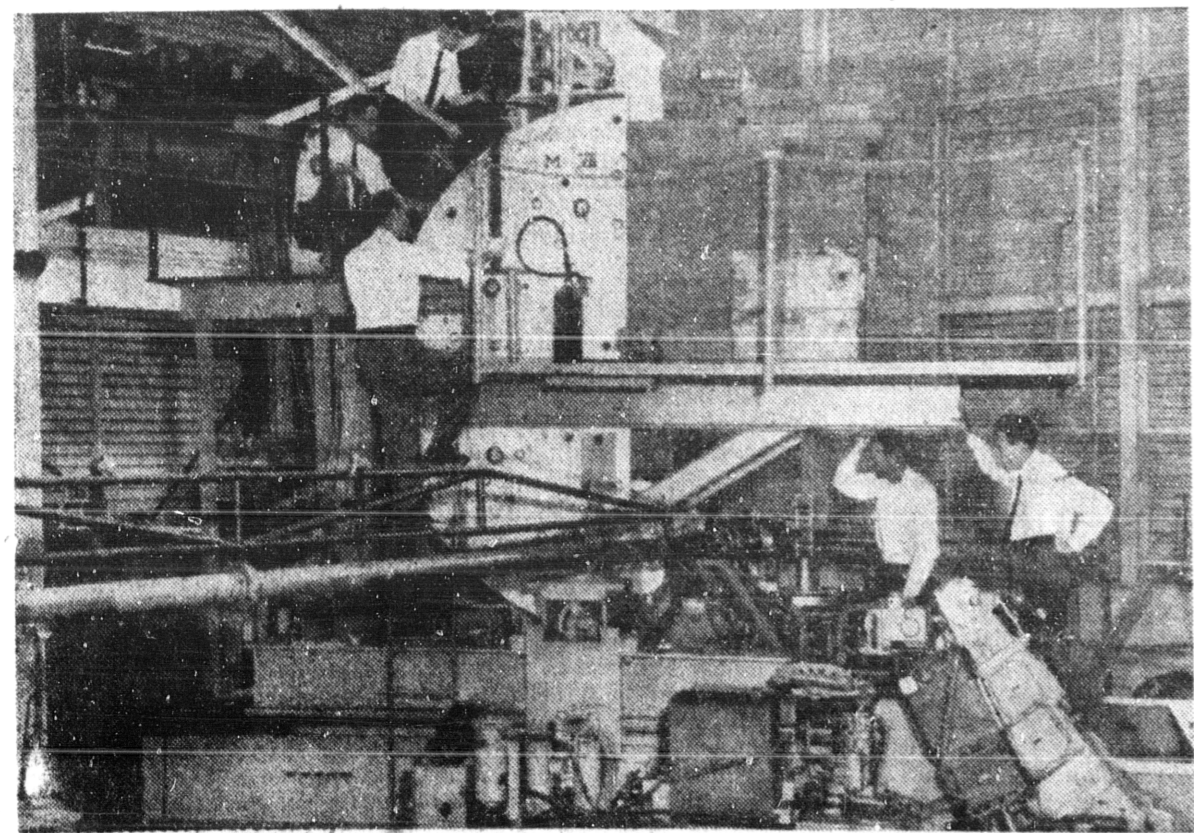

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
UNITED NATIONS—Egypt's Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser told the U. N. he considered the Israeli attack on Syria last Sunday an attack on Egypt. The Security Council meets Friday on Syria's complaint.

LONDON—Britain formally protested to Israel over the Sunday raid against Syrian positions near the eastern shore of the Sea of Galilee.

WASHINGTON — The United States was reported slowing down action on Israel's request for arms. The State Department has told Israel it needs time to consider a list of requested weapons.

PARIS—The Western Big Three foreign ministers agreed a combined British-American-French effort is needed to face the worsening Middle East situation.

CAIRO—Nasser told newsmen Egypt will take action if another Israeli attack occurs. The statement increased Western fears that a major shooting war may follow any future border clashes.

ADJUST NUCLEAR MICROSCOPE — Making ready to examine particles within an atom's nucleus, Stanford University scientists make final adjustments to the 55-ton eyepiece of their recently completed nuclear microscope. Although the device does not enable them to see the nuclear particles, it measures nuclear dimensions with an accuracy of 4 thousandths of a trillionth of an inch. Long pipe at left is from 220-foot electron linear accelerator which supplies the 550-million volt electrons that probe atomic nuclei.

Calls For Less Secrecy On Atom For Peaceful Uses

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sen. Anderson (D-NM), chairman of the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee, Thursday night announced broad plans to get more information on present and potential peacetime uses of nuclear energy "out into the open."

He did so in a speech in which he also hit hard at "clearance" requirements of the Atomic Energy Commission controlling access to confidential or secret information of potential value in peacetime applications.

"It is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than it is for a businessman to receive frank and complete and unfettered answers from the Atomic Energy Commission," he declared in a speech to the Nuclear Science and Engineering Congress.

He said his committee hoped—with the aid of public hearings—to do the following during the early part of the next session of Congress:

1. Appraise the present and future impact of peaceful atomic applications "on the American way of life, economy, industry, and natural resources, including the effect on employment."

2. Consider the impact of the atom on economics and industries abroad "as it will affect our economy and industry here at home."

3. Study "the activities" of the AEC "in its roles of developing and regulating the peaceful uses of atomic energy."

Rule Employers In State Must Pay Twice A Month

CHICAGO (AP) — The Circuit Court upheld Thursday an Illinois attorney general's opinion that Illinois employers must pay their hourly wage earners at least twice a month.

Judge Julius H. Miner's ruling embraces employees of Illinois companies regardless of in what other states they may be working.

Irwin Roemer, attorney for the Pullman Co., which was involved in the decision, said an appeal will be made to the Illinois Supreme Court.

Atty. Gen. Latham Castle said he would press the ruling as far as the U.S. Supreme Court, if necessary.

Castle had ruled that the Pullman Co., an Illinois corporation operating sleeping cars throughout the United States, must pay its personnel at least twice monthly. The company had been crediting overtime hours in a later month against hours not worked in an earlier month. This practice, as well as fewer than semi-monthly paydays, is forbidden by the ruling insofar as Pullman is concerned.

The court ruling applies not only to employees hired or working wholly or partly in Illinois, but all employees in the United States even though most of them were not hired in Illinois and never come within the state.

Judge Miner held that employees are not bound by a collective bargaining agreement made during the years of World War II because the Illinois statutes supersede it.

The most important effect of the decision so far as Pullman employees are concerned, Castle said, is to raise the basis of computing overtime pay.

The hearing was adjourned until March 5 after Olim announced his decision. The committee said steps would be taken in a federal court to obtain his immunity.

Olim was identified Tuesday by Prof. Herbert Fuchs, a self-described former Communist, as one of some 34 government workers Fuchs said he knew as Communists before and during World War II. Fuchs formerly was on the law faculty of the American University in Washington.

Smith, 18, was glad to be sentenced Thursday to a year and a day in prison. This is why.

In 1941 Smith pleaded guilty to five charges of burglary. Judge Robert J. Dunne sentenced him to five concurrent prison terms of one year to life, but recommended that the total time served be not more than three years. Smith went to Stateville Penitentiary at Joliet.

Two years later the Illinois Supreme Court ruled that judges could fix the length of sentences but could not merely recommend, since this would leave judicial power to the State Parole Board.

This nullified Judge Dunne's three-year recommendation, and left Smith facing life in prison.

In 1948 Smith won a parole. But he was arrested in Ohio in 1952 and returned to Illinois as a parole violator to serve the remainder of his original sentence. In all, he now has been in prison 10 years.

The Chicago Bar Assn. felt Smith had been treated unfairly. It appointed attorney Morton Rubin to try to find a solution to the mixup.

Rubin brought the case before Chief Justice Cornelius Harrington of Criminal Court. Judge Harrington sentenced Smith to a year and a day, the minimum penalty for burglary.

The new sentence begins immediately. It means Smith will be eligible for parole in 11 months.

West To Build Stronger Air Raid Warning Screen

AFBF Goes On Record In Favor Of Flexible Farm Price Supports

CHICAGO (AP) — The American Farm Bureau Federation, brushing aside warnings of possible secession by Southern cotton growers, went on record Thursday in favor of flexible government price supports.

The federation also approved, without opposition, a proposal for a soil bank designed to cut present and halt future surpluses by converting a percentage of crop land to grasses and legumes.

H. L. Wingate, president of the Georgia Farm Bureau, led the unsuccessful fight to get delegates to back rigid 90 per cent of parity price supports.

He said cotton growers, faced with the prospect of serious losses, have threatened to pull out of the federation unless they get backing on their demand for 90 per cent parity.

Later, Wingate commented to newsmen that he was "bitterly disappointed" with the federation's stand. He said he personally would seek support in Congress for the cotton farmer, despite the action.

Wingate said he had the support of 39 of the convention's 163 voting delegates in the floor fight. He got the backing of delegates from South Carolina, North Carolina, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Kentucky, Texas and Florida.

The Southern block, also representing growers of peanuts and tobacco, tried four times to get delegates to the federation's 37th annual meeting to exempt cotton from their recommendation for flexible supports. All lost by margins of about four to one.

Wingate said that under the present flexible system, price supports on cotton may drop to 75 per cent of parity next year, forcing farmers to sell below actual costs.

Parity is a figure considered to be fair in relation to the farmer's income and costs.

Besides reaffirming support of variable price supports, a feature of the Eisenhower administration's farm program, the federation adopted a provision stating:

"We also continue to favor provision for 90 per cent of parity price supports for the first year that marketing quotas are in effect for any commodity immediately following a year in which marketing quotas were not in effect on such commodity."

Under the soil bank plan a farmer would qualify for government price supports only by devoting a certain percentage of his normal crop acreage to non-crop grasses and legumes. In turn, farmers would receive cash payments and be able to obtain government stored commodities at low prices.

The federation, the nation's biggest farm organization representing 1,600,000 farm families, reelected Charles B. Shuman of Sullivan, Ill., president.

Connelly was freed in $5,000 bail to answer the charges next Monday in St. Louis, where the indictment was returned. Connelly now is in the public relations business in New York.

Indicted with the 48-year-old Connelly were Harry I. Schwimmer, 56, former Kansas City, Mo., attorney who now lives in New York, and T. Lamar Caudle 51, former head of the Justice Department's Tax Division under Truman, who later fired him. Schwimmer and Caudle are accused of conspiring to accept money and favors for their influence in a St. Louis federal income tax case.

Rep. C. R. Beckmeyer (R-Nashville) told members of the commission that if the question were left to the 1957 session of the General Assembly for action, it could not be voted on in a statewide referendum until 1958.

Beckmeyer questioned whether voters would be sympathetic to a bond issue in 1958 as in 1956. Members of the committee estimated the 85 and 100 million figures during the exploratory meeting at which the commission took no action.

The group was established by the 1955 Legislature and approved by Gov. Stratton who vetoed a bill to put to a statewide vote in 1956 a 150 million dollar plan for paying a Korean War bonus. The proposed awards would have ranged from $50 to $555 depending on length and place of service.

Sentiment of the commission favored a plan to pay each Korean veteran something like the $15 awarded World War II veterans for each month of overseas service and a lesser amount for stateside service.

Most states have fixed on a period from June 27, 1950 to July 27, 1953 in determining eligibility.

From Norway Across Europe To Turkey

PARIS (AP) — Western statesmen decided Thursday to construct a unified air raid warning screen from Norway across Europe to Turkey, backed by a new jamproof communications net.

The United States will pay for the beginning of this installation.

The foreign, finance and defense ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization took this step on an urgent report from U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles that the Soviet Union has reopened the cold war.

NATO's own military planners backed Dulles with a warning that the Russian military threat is greater now than ever before. The Soviets now have speedy jet bombers capable of blasting any part of the NATO area with tremendous nuclear explosives.

Proposals submitted in person by Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, supreme Allied commander in Europe, for a more efficient coordination of air defenses as a step toward their eventual integration were accepted promptly by the NATO ministers. The Gruenther program will lump the various national air defenses in four regions—North, Central and South Europe, and Britain.

Gruenther told a news conference later that his command staff felt coordination of air forces is as much as the NATO members can undertake now.

Gruenther's headquarters will have the specific responsibility for operating Europe's early warning line, the equivalent here to the American-Canadian Distant Early Warning line across North America.

The communications network, to be built at the estimated cost of roughly 42 million dollars, will utilize a new American invention. It is called the "scatter" system.

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, on behalf of the U.S. government, offered to finance the construction of three pilot links—an offer which the NATO ministers immediately accepted. One link will cover the shorter hops in Norway. The others will link Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers in Europe with Naples, and Naples with the Allied base at Izmir, Turkey.

Gruenther stressed that a radar screen would be of little use to European defense if its warnings could not be transmitted back to headquarters and the consequent orders transmitted to guided missile stations and air bases. He said the whole system could be operated around the clock with only 250 men.

The radar screen, the communications net and future guided missile stations will be a joint NATO enterprise. Gruenther was unable to estimate the total cost.

The ministers quickly approved plans for the joint defense buildup in 1956 and the tentative goals for 1957 and 1958.

A review of 1955 estimated all member countries of NATO will have spent a total of $52,914,000,000 for defense in the year now closing. This was a reduction of about two billion dollars from 1954. Ministers agreed that, for internal political reasons, there could be no increase in defense spending now.

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP) — Dist. Atty. David Weber Thursday night said the "possibility of foul play is being considered" in the investigation into the death of Mrs. Wyman Ogan, 39, of Wauwatosa.

Mrs. Ogan's charred body was found Wednesday night in a burning automobile parked on a lonely rural road near the Village of Adell, in southern Sheboygan County.

Her husband, Wyman, 46, was reported in fair condition at a Sheboygan hospital where he is being treated for shock, a brain concussion and first and second degree burns on his hands, face, arms, leg and back.

Sheriff Ted Mosch, Dr. Reed M. Simpson, county coroner, and Deputy State Fire Marshal Earl Schwabe of Brill declined comment late Thursday on an autopsy performed by Dr. Frederick Elgenberger of Sheboygan.

Two teen-age boys from the Adell area came across the car while it was burning. They told authorities the automobile was parked on the shoulder of the road with Ogan lying alongside and the body of Mrs. Ogan hanging from the open right front door. They said they drove to a cheese factory about a quarter-mile away and called the Sheriff's Department and the Adell fire detachment.

Mosch said Roland Panier, 45, of Random Lake, reported he was passing about 1,000 feet away when he went to investigate what he supposed to be a brush fire. He said he found Ogan crawling on his hands and knees in a dazed condition in a ditch on the east side of the road. He was not wearing trousers.

Deputy Sheriff Hugh Carpenter said deputies arriving shortly after found footprints leading from the east edge of the road, where the car was burning, to the west side and thence to a point in a field where the condition of the snow indicated someone had rolled in it. He said Ogan's trousers were found at this spot. The footprints, Carpenter said, led back to the highway.

Carpenter said a two-gallon gasoline can was found on the front floor of the burning car. The cap was lying on the ground, he said,

Rayburn Predicts Congress Will Pass School Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) predicted Thursday that a bill providing federal aid for school construction will pass the House in the new session that begins next month.

"I think we'll get a school bill," he said, "because it's becoming more and more evident there is a serious classroom shortage."

Rayburn said Democratic leaders would try for early action. The House Education Committee has a bill ready, having passed it before Congress quit last summer. It would distribute $1,600,000,000 among the states for school construction over four years, and authorize the federal government to underwrite state and local financing of additional construction.

One stumbling block involves the issue of racial segregation. A Negro Democrat, Rep. Powell of New York, has drawn up an amendment which would forbid spending federal money in school districts in which Negro and white pupils are separated.

Rep. Smith (D-Va.), chairman of the House Rules Committee, said Southerners on his committee would question the inclusion of any such amendment. The Rules Committee has to clear legislation before it can reach the House floor for action.

FIRST PASSPORT TO MOON ISSUED
CHICAGO (AP) — James T. Mangan, who says he's acting secretary of state of the Nation of Celestial Space, Thursday issued the first passport to the moon.

The passport, permitting the bearer to make a round trip to the moon, went to Dr. Wagner Schlesinger, director of the Adler Planetarium in Chicago.

Mangan, a Chicago public relations man, in 1949 recorded a claim in the Cook County (Chicago) recorder's office to all celestial space except that occupied by the earth and other heavenly bodies.

He said he's acting secretary of state of the Nation of Celestial Space, Thursday issued the first passport to the moon.

Interpreting The News

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Secretary of State Dulles has told the NATO Council of Ministers the cold war is on again after nearly a year of zigging and zagging. The fact is that so far as the Russians were concerned, the cold war never stopped.

The zigging and zagging were part of the war-in-peace tactics of international communism. Such tactics will continue. In all that year of maneuvering, the Soviet leaders never once lost sight of their immediate and long-range goals.

If the cold war had really come to a halt at any time during that period, the NATO Council itself would not be facing at this moment the urgent necessity of seeking out ways to meet new Soviet challenges.

These challenges are deadly ones. The Soviet economic and political offensives in vast areas of the world are backed up, in the estimation of the NATO planners, by a greater Soviet military threat against the Western world than ever before. Yet military measures alone would fall far short of meeting the threat.

The height of the Soviet smile offensive was reached in July when the heads of state of the four powers were preparing to meet at the summit in Geneva. If there was ever to be a halt in the cold war, that was the time. Yet at the same moment, Soviet representatives in Egypt arranging the arms deal that was to brow the Middle East into confusion over colonialism throughout the whole Eastern world.

Western memories seem woefully short. The year 1955 began with a violent attack upon the Western Alliance and the United States in particular, uttered by Foreign Minister Molotov at the Supreme Soviet meeting. At that time important decisions were reached in Moscow — decisions looking toward a bold and imaginative offensive to catch the uncommitted world with its guard down.

Every move appeared to be well-calculated. The Russians, after holding up Austrian independence for years, repeated a harvest of propaganda by finally doing what they should have done long before. They also paved the way for the summit meeting and the foreign ministers' session which were to follow.

The Russians gave back the Porkkala base to Finland, and then used that act to bolster their drive against American bases.

The Russians announced an armed force cut of 640,000—men now placed where they are sorely needed in Soviet agriculture. The NATO planners point out that this had no effect on Soviet combat ability, that in fact it indicates a modernization and streamlining of the Soviet military power. But the Russians used that decision to demonstrate that only Moscow was willing to disarm.

The Russians then ventured into the East with a powerful offensive which by no means was confined to that area alone. Its link with the Arab world, for example, seems plain in the far-from-coincidental visit to India of Saudi Arabia's King at the time of the Khrushchev-Bulganin visit. The tour of South Asia and Afghanistan thrusts the diplomatic offensive into the Arab world.

The Soviet moves all too apparently fitted in with the over-all program of spreading Communist domination.

Car Flips Over West Of Virginia; Marine Injured

BEARDSTOWN — Larry Moore, who is with the U. S. Marines, and home on leave wrecked his 1949 Plymouth sedan Wednesday morning when the car skidded on the slick pavement.

The accident happened at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning on U.S. 67 just east of the Virginia County club. He was en route to Virginia and had turned out to pass a truck on the road when the car skidded. It flipped end over end. Snow which began falling early Wednesday had accumulated sufficiently by 10:30 to make the highway slippery in spots.

Larry, who was alone in the car, was considerably shaken up and suffered a bruised arm and shoulder and possible chest injuries.

The car was badly damaged and was towed to the McHaley-Barnett garage.

He is due to report back to Camp Pendleton, Calif., Dec. 17.

Woman Held In Alton Charged With Forgery Here

Chief of Police Iki Flynn and Deputy Sheriff Staley Keller left for Alton shortly before noon Thursday to return Mrs. Grace Ann Hughes of Jacksonville to this city to face a forgery charge filed by Con Adams, assistant manager of Sears Store in this city.

Mrs. Hughes had been taken into custody by Alton police on a charge of forgery in that city but had been released on bond. Her husband is still being held there on a similar charge.

Alton police notified the Jacksonville authorities that Mrs. Hughes was arrested there and would be released on bond. The local officers requested that she be held to face the charge here.

According to Jacksonville authorities, Mrs. Hughes' pass-ports, forged checks for $25, $30, $35 and $40 at four stores in this city: the store where Woodworth, Sears Grant's and Montgomery Ward.

The checks were made out on the State Bank of Jacksonville.

Oliver McIlrath Named Top Speaker By Toastmasters

Oliver McIlrath, second speaker of the evening, Wednesday night was voted the best speaker award of the week as the Toastmasters' Club met.

McIlrath, introduced by toastmaster of the evening Rex Fouts, spoke on "Safety." He pointed to the better side of accidents — the possibility of learning from them.

Elsewhere on the program: Warren Clubine, choosing as his topic, "Why I Like Selling," narrated the events which combined to attract him to the career of a salesman.

Rex Fouts' speech, "The Risks We Take," stressed the necessity of minimizing risks by purchasing adequate insurance.

"What The Bridegroom Wore," a speech by Dr. L. K. Hallock, entertained the club by satirizing an ornate wedding ceremony. The attire of the groom was described in elaborate detail and that of the bride dismissed as being plain — the reverse of the usual practice.

The evening's best speaker was selected by ballot.

RING-A-LINGS

$25,000 First Prize Winner in Pillsbury's 7th Grand National Recipe and Baking Contest by Mrs. Bertha E. Jorgensen, Portland, Oregon, adapted by Ann Pillsbury.

Baked at 357 degrees F. for 15 minutes, then for 5 minutes. Makes 12 or 2 dozen rolls.

Soften 2 cakes compressed yeast in 1 cup lukewarm water. (Or substitute 2 packages dry yeast. Soften in 1 cup very warm, not hot, water.)

Combine 1 1/2 cup butter or margarine and 1 cup hot scalded milk in large bowl. Stir until butter melts. Cool to lukewarm.

Add 1 3/4 cup sugar, 2 teaspoons salt, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, 2 unbeaten eggs and the yeast mixture. Add gradually 4 or 4 1/2 cups sifted Pillsbury's Best Enriched Flour to form a stiff dough. Mix thoroughly. Cover. Let stand 30 minutes.

Roll out to a 22x12-inch rectangle on floured board. Spread half of dough along 22-inch side with nut filling. Fold uncovered dough over filling.

Cut into 1-inch strips (cross-wise). Twist each strip 4 or 5 times. Then hold one end down on baking sheet for center of roll. Curl remaining strip around center on baking sheet as for a pinwheel, tucking other end under. Cover with waxed paper or towel. Let rise in warm place (85 degrees to 90 degrees F.) until doubled in size, 45 to 60 minutes.

Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 15 minutes until light golden brown. Meanwhile prepare glaze of 1 cup orange juice and 3 tablespoons sugar. Brush tops of rolls and bake 5 minutes longer until deep golden brown. Remove from baking sheet immediately.

* — For warm place, set pan of boiling water in bottom of cold oven. Place rolls on rack above. Close oven door. Remove 15 minutes before baking to preheat oven.

Nut Filling
Cream 1/3 cup butter or margarine. Blend in 1 cup sifted confectioners sugar thoroughly. Add 1 cup filberts, ground or chopped very fine. (Other nuts may be substituted.)

Stretch The Space In Stingy Second Bedroom

Here Are Two Ideas For Avoiding Crowded Look Without Sacrificing Comfort

On the masculine side is this room, done in brown and gold, which solves the problem of the too small bedroom.

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Many a mistress of a modern home has wished the builder hadn't been quite so literal when computing the size of bedrooms. In the postage-stamp spaces proudly listed as the second and third, or children's, bedrooms, there is room for the bed—and that's about all.

So the homemaker fixing up the tiny room must steer a middle course between cell-like simplicity and overblown fancy effects to avoid accentuating the dimensions.

Two successful proofs that a cubicle can be cheerful and comfortable are pictured here. They may suggest an idea or two to you, if the problem sounds familiar.

I like the color schemes. One, rather on the feminine side, is blue and white. The other, more masculine, is light gold and brown.

Materials used—cotton fishnet, sheeting, corduroy and trimmings—are pretty, washable and inexpensive. A good mattress on box springs makes the bed in a case. This combination permits flexible arrangements without adding unnecessary bulk. I noted, too, that the single chest of drawers in each room is painted the same color as the wall to side-step a crowded look.

Pipe the nautical note in the gold and brown room. Heavy white cotton cord is knotted sailor-fashion and stitched in scallops to the washable brown corduroy throw, pillow cover and cornice.

The cornice backing is a specially treated buckram which keeps its stiffness. You cut it to shape and size with scissors, add a two-inch-wide tape at the back for the curtain rod and cover the front with corduroy.

On the feminine side is this room, done in blue and white, which solves the problem of the too small bedroom.

Pale gold walls take their color cue from the gold-tone nautical net and straight panel curtains of heavy-weight cotton fishnet. The net is pre-shrunk and permanently finished.

A length of the fishnet, gathered at each end and hung on the wall, suggests a sailor's hammock. It's meant to hold odds and ends. Pictures are prints mounted on fishnet, glued to cardboard and framed with pasted-down cotton cord. Oh, yes. The rug is light brown.

A dark blue rug sets the stage for sky-blue painted walls and chest in the more feminine setting. Pastel blue sheeting, crisp and easily sewed, teams up with white cotton fishnet to gain more interesting texture for the bed coverlet and tie-back curtains.

Both are made by stitching the fishnet to the four hemmed sides of the sheeting. Fluffy blue-and-white ball fringe trims the edges. Ready-made aids simplify the sewing of drape curtains and dust ruffle. A hemmed piece of sheeting takes a heading of woven cotton braid with built-in loops to make the curtain ready for hanging in jig-time.

Ready-made shirring tape with two woven-in cords is stitched to the back of the flat strip which becomes a dust-ruffle by pulling up the cords to desired fullness.

Ruffle is secured with hooks and eyes attached to shirring tape or every ten inches, to box springs (not placed under mattress every five inches).

Is it necessary to remind the home-sewer that if you want a full ruffle you measure the area and double it to get the length of fabric you'll need? Bolsters are snapped into blue sheeting slipcovers, too.

7:30 p.m. During the meeting officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Noble grand, Minnie Hankins; vice grand, Phebe Martin; secretary, Doris Redearn; treasurer, Ruth Walters; staff captain, Eva Moultrie, and trustees, Mary Thomas, Maude Mader, Wilma Bateman, Fannie Chalmers, and F. G. Burch. The installation will be January 13 at that regular meeting.

LOW CEILING

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP)—Some 425 persons have applied for residence in Saginaw's new 236-apartment federal housing project. But only about 100 of them are eligible for the low income dwellings. Most of the others make too much money. That's more than the $3,100 to $3,500 permitted.

GAYLORD SPOTTS

Scheduled to appear at halftime will be the famed "Marching Illini" band, and for the first time in Illinois basketball history Chief Illiniwek will perform the March of the Illini. The Chief's routine has always been one of the main attractions at the Fighting Illini football games.

After serving three years as Illiniwek this will be the last time Gaylord Spotts will don the Indian costume as he graduates this June.

Tickets for both Saturday's game with Washington University and Monday's game with DePaul will be on sale at ticket windows of Huff Gymnasium before each contest. Box office will open at 1 p.m. Saturday and at 6:30 p.m. Monday.

The Illini marked more than 100 points on the scoreboard for the third time in history Tuesday to defeat Notre Dame 103-93, showing a sharp reversal in form from a second half against Missouri which brought a one-point loss to the Tigers.

Coach Harry Combes was well pleased with help his bench gave against Notre Dame, singling out Don Ohl, Edwardsville sophomore, and Hiles Stout, Peoria junior, for commendation.

"Ohl and Stout gave us a lift with Stout showing for the first time the form which made him so valuable late last season," Combes said.

Stout scored 14 points and rebounded strongly on both boards indicating he's reaching peak form after a slow start due to competition in football. Both Stout and Ohl are contending for the forward spot now held by Bruce Brothers, Quincy senior.

Combes planned no lineup change for the Washington University contest but will have Ohl, Stout, Ted Calazza, and Larry Breyfogle ready for action should any of the veterans falter after starting the game.

Washington, coached by Blair Gullion, is a defensive club which in its first two games limited foes to a 50-point scoring average. The Bears are deliberate, too, on offense, contending themselves to working the ball until a good scoring chance prevails.

The Illini will have little edge in height against the visitors who have Jim Barton (6-3) and Bill Gullion (6-4) at forwards, Les Medley (6-6) at center, and Ed Cristol (6-11) and Art Borchers (6-3) at guards.

Coach Gullion also has some lanky men in reserve including Don Garrett (6-0), Jim Paul (6-5), Ken Wisniewski (6-8), and Bob Casten (6-1).

Capt. Paul Judson, Hebron senior, continues to pace Illinois scoring with a 20-point-per-game average. He's closely followed by Harry Schmidt, Kankakee junior, who is clicking at an 18-point pace. Bill Ridley, Taylorville senior, has 15.7 per game average.

The Illini meet DePaul Monday in George Huff gymnasium.

EVENING

8:30 p.m. Winners play for first place

Illinois College, victorious in five of its first six encounters, will be host to a four team holiday basketball tournament to be played in the Illinois College Memorial Gymnasium Saturday, December 17. It will be an afternoon-evening affair with two games slated for each session.

Coach Al Miller's Blueboys are currently riding high with a 5-1 mark for the year including a 2-0 record in Prairie College conference action. The two loop wins were over Rose Poly and Greenville. Other victories came at the expense of Culver Stockton, Monmouth and Eureka. The lone setback was suffered at the hands of Western Illinois State.

Teams taking part in the one day tourney are Principia, Concordia of Springfield, Blackburn and IC. All are members of the PCC.

Saturday's program will give fans an opportunity of seeing two of the leading scorers among small college circles. Blackburn's Pete Hughes and IC's Ed Harrell are a couple of the best at dumping the ball through the hoop. Hughes has hit over 40 points in one contest this year and was the conference's leading scorer last season. Harrell holds the loop single game scoring mark, 38 points, set against Blackburn last season.

The tournament opener, which is scheduled to get under way at 1:00 p.m., pits the host Blueboy five against Concordia. Blackburn meets Principia in the second tilt, which starts immediately after the opener is completed. The two losers tangle at 7:00 in the evening in a battle for third place and the championship game is slated for 8:30.

The Illinois College probable lineup will include four juniors and one senior. Roger Curfman will team with Jim Bonds at forward while Bill Merris and Dick Barnes will hold down the guard spots. Harrell will be at the pivot position. All are juniors except Merris who is a senior.

It appears as if Bonds is rounding into shape after a slow start. A 20-point per game man two years ago, the junior from Champaign hit this charmed circle for the first time in the Rose Poly tilt last weekend. However, Bonds spent the past two years in service which may account for this slowness in getting started. Guard Dick Barnes' scoring has been a vital factor in the four IC wins up to this time.

Other boys expected to see considerable action include Todd Renfro, Roger Ezard, Edwin Batley and Carl Moore.

Scalping Begins After Rose Bowl Seats Go On Sale

PASADENA, Calif. (P)—The annual public sale of 3,500 Rose Bowl tickets was followed Thursday by immediate scalping.

Youngsters who had been among the lucky 1,750 persons permitted to buy two tickets apiece at $5.99 a ticket, started selling them at $7.50 a pair.

The crowd waited through a miserably chilly and foggy night to be in line when the sales windows opened at 8:30 a.m.

Routt Plays Host To Feitshans Flyers; JHS Travels To Macomb

The Routt Rockets entertain a strong quintet from Springfield tonight when coach Roy Halberg's cagers invade Our Saviour's gym for two games. Feitshans has victories over JHS, Beardstown and Greenfield and has suffered one loss.

The Rockets' record this season is three wins and three losses. Coach Larry Zitkus will probably stick to the regular lineup of DeVore and Sargent at forwards, Woodson at the pivot position and Long and Coop playing the guard slots.

The preliminary will get underway at 6:45 and the main tilt around 8:00 o'clock.

JHS At Macomb

The Crimson play a non-conference game tonight when they visit Macomb. Macomb was beaten by Quincy this season, and this would be a good chance to see how JHS might stack up against Quincy in its invitational tourney in the local bowl next week.

Barney Lewis and Jerry Cassens will be at inksides to bring the play by play five minutes before 8:00 o'clock.

In the first overtime no points were scored. A free throw by Tobin of Our Saviour's gave them the ball game in the sudden death overtime, and gave coach Jake Sellars' boys a shot at the first place trophy Saturday night.

Kentucky Sneaks

By Maryland 62-60

In Final Seconds

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (P)—Bob O'Brien missed a tying foul shot in the last 40 seconds Thursday night as Kentucky survived a spirited second-half rally by Maryland to win 62-60 before 10,125, the biggest basketball crowd in the history of the state.

Kentucky, handing Maryland its first defeat in four games and winning its third in the same number, went ahead 62-60 on Vernon Hatton's basket from underneath with 2:58 to play, and then tried to freeze the ball.

Maryland got it with 1:23 to go and O'Brien was fouled going in for a shot. He made the first but missed the second.

Kentucky's early sharpshooting lead by Gerry Calvert, threatened to make a runaway of the game as they pulled away to a 20-8 lead in the first eight minutes.

Maryland settled down and rallied to within 39-31 at the half.

Calvert led the winners with 19 points.

Michigan State Holds Final Home Workouts Indoors

EAST LANSING, Mich. (P)—Because of a blanket of snow outside, the Michigan State football team staged its last home workout Thursday indoors.

Friday morning, the squad will be flying Rose Bowl bound for the west coast. The next practice will be Saturday morning with shirt sleeve weather expected.

All America quarterback Earl Morrill, who had been bothered by a bad cold, was improved.

The team was scheduled to leave Lansing at 9:30 a.m. Friday by chartered plane. A parade through downtown Lansing and farewell ceremonies, however, were expected to delay the takeoff.

NEW TITLE

CARTHAGE, N. C. (P)—A juror arose in Moore County Superior Court and addressed the bench, "Your honors . . ."

Susie Sharp, North Carolina's only woman Superior Court judge, said later she had been called many things, but never that.

And Judge S'she, who is not adverse to quaint expressions, added: "It sounded to me like he'd hit on a right good expression, and I couldn't fault him for that."

Carthage Redmen Will Participate In Chicago Tourney

With three wins under their belts, the Carthage College Redmen hardcourtiers travel to Chicago this week to participate in the annual invitational basketball tournament to be played in the Navy Pier gymnasium on Dec. 15-17.

Coach Art Keller's cagers will meet Chicago Teachers College in the tourney on Dec. 15 at 9:00 p.m. If they are able to top the Teachers, they will play again on Friday.

Victories have been made this season over Culver-Stockton, Midland and William Penn colleges. The Redmen bowed to Monmouth and Knox, both road games. The other three contests were all played on the Carthage court.

In five games, the Redmen have outscored their opponents 395 points to 383, or a per-game average of 79 to 76.6. Their highest individual game scoring was racked up in their first tilt when they topped Culver-Stockton 92-84.

Individual scoring honors have shifted considerably so far this season and Coach Keller hopes that this balance will be maintained throughout the year. High honors so far have gone to Fred Imhoff, Ron Hill, Paul Thomsen, Ken Nafziger, Rolie Swanson and Tom Bowersox. All six players have been regulars on the squad.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market developed a highly selective character Thursday and closed lower despite strength in many key stocks.

There were good plus signs in most major groups. None was depressed very much. A few stocks moved widely, but the range usually ran from $3 higher to $2 lower.

Aircrafts were singled out early in the day for buying attention on the strength of government and private orders for planes and defense items.

This is the fifth straight decline that the market has made from the neighborhood of its old record high.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 20 cents at $178.20. The industrial component managed to advance 10 cents while rails were off 60 cents and utilities remained unchanged.

Volume was relatively low at 2,260,000 shares as compared with 2,670,000 shares traded Wednesday.

The American Stock Exchange was mixed on volume of 850,000 shares as compared with 890,000 shares Wednesday.

LOWER GRAIN PRICES REFLECT MILD LIQUIDATING MOVE

By WILLIAM FERRIS CHICAGO (AP)—All grains closed lower on the Board of Trade Thursday, reflecting a mild, liquidating movement which got under way shortly after the opening and continued through to the finish.

The selloff was accomplished on rather light volume. Such factors as an easier tone in cash grains, selling of December contracts by traders who don't want to accept delivery of cash grain and mild profit taking were behind the slump.

Wheat closed 1 1/4-1 1/2 lower, corn 1 1/4-1 1/2 lower, oats 3/4-7/8 lower, rye unchanged to 1 1/2 lower, soybeans 1/4-3/4 lower and lard 2 to 8 cents a hundred pounds lower.

At the outset wheat managed to add fractions onto the previous close. This was attributed largely to the latter part of Wednesday's session, that wheat and corn will be made available for distribution to needy persons overseas.

This news failed to cause any excitement among professional traders.

Export news was pretty much ignored, although it contained some bullish items. Mexico bought 2,080,000 bushels of hard wheat. Egypt received a grant of $5,600,000 for the purchase of three million bushels of wheat. Greece requested offers on 8,800,000 pounds of either cottonseed oil or soybean oil.

Soybean oil held unchanged while meal advanced $1.00 to sell at $50.00 to $50.50 a ton.

NEW YORK (AP)—Convertible issues eased slightly in an irregular bond market Thursday.

U. S. Treasury securities climbed for the second day with advances up to 4-32.

Corporate volume inched up to $3,682,000 par value from the light $3,540,000 Wednesday.

Nasser Tells U.N. Egypt Will Use Army To Insure Safety

A few days ago, it is reported, the Defense Department decided that the weapons which Israel wishes to buy are available and put a price on the whole lot. The price is understood to be approximately 50 million dollars.

Barring further difficulties, it seems certain that eventually Israel will get the weapons, or most of them, but not, however, until the Syrian incident is cleared up through United Nations investigation and hearings.

Britain formally protested to Israel against the raid and announced support of Syria's complaint against Israel in the Security Council Friday.

In Cairo, Nasser had told newsmen Egypt "will take action if another Israeli attack occurs." Some newsmen reported he said Syria and Egypt would attack together. Others disagreed. There was no mention of Syria in a Cairo radio broadcast regarding his off-the-cuff remarks.

"Egypt has suffered the Israeli aggression so patiently in the past to show the world that she is against any aggressive policy," Nasser told Hammarskjold.

He enumerated five attacks which he said Israel had made on Egypt in the Gaza and El Aja areas since late last February, and listed the raid into Syria as a final item.

"On these grounds," said Nasser, "I should like to inform you that the Egyptian government is bound to deal with the situation herself, including the use of her armed forces—land, air and navy—with a view to insuring her safety and maintaining peace in the area."

He added that this was "the only natural action, since the Security Council had not prevented the recurrence of such attacks."

The warning sharpened fears in Western governments that a major shooting war may follow any further Israeli action.

Lovesick Youth, Who Killed Three, Dies In Gun Duel

VANDERGRIFT, Pa. (AP)—A 17-year-old love-crazed teen-ager who shot and killed the parents and uncle of the girl who spurned him was fatally shot Thursday in a blazing gun duel with a posse.

John Fallone, a bullet in his brain, died at 6:45 p. m. (EST) at a Kittanning hospital.

Gladys Small, 15-year-old girl who spurned Fallone, is in serious condition at the same hospital with a bullet wound in her breast. Fallone shot her Wednesday night in a wild burst of gunfire which ended in death for her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Small, and her uncle, William A. Small.

Fallone's last defiant act was to shoot Police Gus Zanos of Apollo, Pa., a member of the posse of nearly 500 police and volunteers who tracked him down in the now countryside 30 miles north-east of Pittsburgh.

Zanos, however, suffered only a flesh wound of the head.

Members of the posse closed in on Fallone about noon, 30 minutes after Zanos was shot. They found Fallone crumpled in a foxhole-like refuge. His .22 caliber automatic rifle was at his side. So were about 500 rounds of ammunition. He was wearing only blue jeans, a sport shirt and a light tan jacket. He had been in the sub-freezing countryside since fleeing after the slayings about 8:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Although in serious condition, Gladys was able to talk about the events leading up to the shootings. She said she had dated Fallone several months ago, "after which he wouldn't let me talk to other boys."

"My parents finally forbade me to see him. Then he threatened us, said 'I'll get all of you some day,'" she related.

He came to the house Wednesday evening.

Armed with the rifle and a box of dynamite, the boy terrorized the family, shot the girl and killed her parents in the kitchen while five younger children cried in fear. As he walked outside Fallone saw Small's brother, William, 49, returning to the house with help and shot him down in the yard.

Then Fallone fled, and the manhunt was on.

BRITAIN SENDS PROTEST TO ISRAEL LONDON (AP)—Britain formally protested to Israel Thursday saying against the attack Sunday by Israeli forces on Syrian positions along the shores of the Sea of Galilee.

Sir Ivone Kirkpatrick, British permanent undersecretary, summoned Israeli Ambassador Elliah Elath to the Foreign Office and expressed "grave concern" at the Israeli assault in which more than 50 Syrians were killed, by Israeli count.

IKE GETS BATTERY-DRIVEN GOLF CART GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower Thursday received a battery-driven golf cart he can use to scoot around his farm.

The cart, a three-wheeled two-seater of light blue with black and white striped upholstery, was a gift, presented by the president and vice president of the Cushman Motor Works of Lincoln, Neb., R. H. and W. B. Ammon.

Eisenhower inspected the vehicle briefly and thanked the donors for it.

their border clashes.

Israeli spokesmen have declared that the Israeli attack, one of the bloodiest Israeli-Arab battles since the 1948 Palestine War, was to silence guns which the Israelis charged had been harassing Israeli fishermen and police boats on Galilee.

U. N. investigators so far have reported only a provisional figure of 41 Syrian dead, with no definite total of Israeli casualties. By Israeli accounts, 55 Syrians were killed and 29 captured while the Israelis lost 4 dead and 12 Wounded. Syria said its losses were 25 dead and 28 missing, and the Damascus radio declared 100 Israeli soldiers killed or wounded.

In Paris the foreign ministers of Britain, France and the United States agreed to press for greater coordination of their policies in the troubled Middle East. Their discussion included the Israeli-Syrian clash.

2 CIO Men Charge Money From Union Dues Given Demos

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two working men who belong both to the CIO and the Republican party complained Thursday that they and like-minded unionists are being forced to contribute to the Democrats.

Harry F. Brothers of Ypsilanti, Mich., who said he had been a member of the CIO United Auto Workers for 15 years, told a news conference called by Sen. Curtis (R-Neb.):

"It's no secret that the union bosses are taking vast sums from union dues and are placing them at the disposal of the Democrats. As a Republican, I bitterly oppose being compelled to make involuntary contributions through the use of my dues to finance the party I vote against at the polls."

"And there are millions of rank and file men in this country who are as bitter about it as I am," Walter J. Brauminger of Chelsea, Mich., a CIO UAW member since 1942, told the same conference that independent surveys in Michigan showed 40 per cent of union members had voted the Republican presidential ticket in 1952 while most union leaders and funds backed the Democrats.

Official Speaks To Morgan Child Welfare Board

Miss Mary Sullivan, regional administrator for the Institute of Juvenile Research, was the speaker for the December meeting of the advisory board for the Morgan County Child Welfare Services, Tuesday noon, at the Dunlap Hotel.

Miss Sullivan outlined in general the work of the Institute, but devoted most of her remarks to the William Healy Center in Chicago which was opened in May of this year.

"The William Healy Center is the largest training center for child psychiatry in the United States," Miss Healy told the group. "But so little has been accepted as valid in the field of psychiatric treatment for children that it is still largely concerned with research."

The center accepts treatable emotionally disturbed children whose families or foster families will cooperate in the treatment, but it is not designed to treat the mentally retarded or severely physically disabled child.

Miss Sullivan described the personnel of the center including cottage parents, dietitian, part-time pediatrician, teaching staff, recreational staff, social workers, and psychiatrists, as well as the efforts to coordinate the services in the interest of the child.

Mrs. S. N. Osborne, program chairman, introduced the speaker, and Mrs. F. J. Perry, chairman, presided.

The next meeting of the board will be a business meeting on Monday, Jan. 16, in the County Fair room of the Dunlap Hotel.

Nichols Fund Will Provide Gifts For 250 School Pupils

Approximately 250 pupils of the Jacksonville public schools will be the recipients of gifts from the Nichols Foundation this year according to announcement by Oliver Buck, principal of the Jefferson school, who is chairman of the committee.

Members of the committee are Mr. Buck, Mrs. Mildred Gregory, Mrs. Nona Read and Chief of Police Ike Flynn.

J. S. Voorhees Is Given Award By Phi Kappa Tau

J. S. Voorhees of Urbana, a graduate of the University of Illinois, has been chosen as the 1955 winner of the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity's National Shielder Award.

Mr. Voorhees is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. A. Russell Baker, 703 West Beecher avenue, this city.

The award is the highest honor that may be given to any undergraduate student in Phi Kappa Tau social fraternity and is bestowed annually by the fraternity to only one man chosen from 72 chapters of the nation.

This award is based on what the man has done for his fraternity and schools in fields of scholarship, leadership, religion and other activities. Personality is a large factor, and the major question considered in the presentation of this award is, "What is a man like, and what does he have to offer?"

While in the University of Illinois, Mr. Voorhees became a member of Phi Eta Sigma, Dolphins and the Physical Education Major's Club. He also was president of Phi Epsilon Kappa; treasurer of Delta Phi Epsilon and Varsity Swimming Manager.

While house president, he was instrumental in the building of a new addition on the chapter house. Last June he graduated with a grade average of 4.33 and is now on the University staff as an assistant in physical education.

Christmas Basket Requests Heavier Than Last Year

Due to cases affected by local unemployment the applications for Christmas dinners to be furnished by the Salvation Army is somewhat higher than last year and the work of investigating new applications is an added burden to the Army workers, Major Servais said Thursday.

The investigation work was started the first week in November and so far 281 cases have qualified for Christmas dinners compared with 269 at the same date a year ago. The total last year was 317 and that number will be exceeded this year, Major Servais said.

Although the Tree of Lights budget remains at $3,000 and will not be increased, Major Servais said of the baskets than to increase the budget.

Earl Walters is again chairman of the committee of Lions which will set up the Tree of Lights on Thursday evening.

The campaign will open its "Operation Christmas" on Saturday at 9 a.m. The Tree of Lights will be manned from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. by the Jacksonville Trades & Labor Assembly with Cloyd DeFries as chairman. The Associated Clothing Workers of America will take over at 3 p.m. and continue until 9 p.m., with Owen Nunes as chairman.

When $10 or more is donated a light will flash on the tree. A list of individuals or organizations will appear daily in the Jacksonville Journal Courier.

OPEN HOUSE AT FOSTER'S 'HOME'

Here's desk used by Stephen Foster when he composed.

AS LOVELY AS the song itself is the home which inspired Stephen Foster to write My Old Kentucky Home. Located a mile east of Bardstown, Ky., it receives visitors every day of the year except Christmas. Hostesses wearing hoop-kirted dresses give a hospitable warmth to the beautiful home. They point to the handsome desk (valued at $25,000) where Foster wrote the notes and the piano, with its mother-of-pearl keyboard, where he first played the melody. Elegant furnishings include chandeliers, lush carpets and furniture by Duncan Phyfe and Chippendale. The brick house, a reproduction of Independence Hall, was built in 1796. There's not a nail in the structure. Wooden pegs were used. In the early days, Federal Hill, the estate's formal name, was known for its colorful gardens and magnificent furnishings, but it took Foster to bring it enduring fame. In 1922, it was deeded to the state of Kentucky.

Some of the friendly hostesses wait to greet a visitor on steps of the stately mansion.

Painting shows Foster being touched by magic of music.

SANTA CLAUS RETURNS—Manhattan employees of the New York Telephone company will play Santa again this year—for the 39th time—for kids in 100 charitable institutions and hospitals. Some 7,500 toys—including 3,500 dolls—are being distributed.

Un-American Unit Says 48 New Red Names Learned

CHICAGO — The House Un-American Activities Committee says testimony at current hearings produced the names of 48 Communists not previously listed.

The names which the committee said were first mentioned in Chicago were given by Prof. Herbert Fuchs, 50, former law professor at American University in Washington, D.C., and Mortimer Reimer, 51, a Cleveland attorney.

Reimer said he was a Communist from 1935 or 1936 until he quit in World War II. He was the first executive secretary of the National Lawyers Guild, described by the Un-American Activities Committee in 1950 as "the foremost legal bulwark of the Communist party, its front organizations and controlled unions."

Fuchs, who had testified the first day of the hearings, said he was a Communist from 1934 to 1947. During those years he held jobs in the National Labor Relations Board and the War Labor Board.

Between them, Reimer and Fuchs gave dozens of names of persons they said were Communists. A committee aide who checked the list said there were 48 names never before brought to light in public testimony.

NOT SO SWEET

PORTLAND, Ore. —The Oregon Dental Assn. wants the sale of candy and sweetened soft drinks banned in public schools.

The move is aimed at curtailing tooth decay among children, said Dr. Harold Kramer, president of the association.

If the program is adopted, it would be the first time such a ban has been state-wide. Two major cities, Long Beach, Calif., and Chicago, have adopted the plan, Kramer said.

TV Actress Travels With Small Wardrobe She Picks Clothes That Won't Wilt

Because her work involves a good deal of travel, TV actress Julia Meade buys clothes with travel assets. For a short trip, the clothes she models here might serve as her entire wardrobe. First, because it packs easily, doesn't muss and looks lovely, she picks (left) an ombre, gray cotton lace after-five dress with the new cover-up look. Useful ensemble (center) is bachelor button blue print silk surrah sheath paired with blue wool-caffan coat lined in the print. En route, she wears (right) a costume in gunmetal gray Italian silk linen. Fitted jacket is worn over slender dress. Jacket has white linen overcollar and polka dot lining. All of the clothes shown here are from Hannah Troy. —By GAILE DUGAS, NEA Women's Editor.

VIRGINIA

VIRGINIA — Thirty-four male teachers of Cass county met at the Virginia high school, Wednesday evening, when they enjoyed a 6 o'clock dinner. The cooks who prepare and serve the hot lunch for the children of the Virginia schools, prepared and served the dinner.

The business district in Virginia, presents a gala Yuletide appearance. Strings of colored lights across the streets, two beautifully decorated Christmas trees in the park and the bandstand decorated with colored lights, together with the attractive windows of the merchants make a real holiday scene. The Jaycees will install a Santa Claus house in the park, where the children may visit him.

Friends are in receipt of announcements of the birth of a daughter, Vivian Rae, Dec. 4, in Redwood Falls, Minn., to Rev. and Mrs. Alvin Goldhorn. Rev. Goldhorn is a former pastor of the local Presbyterian church and was present at the 125th anniversary of the church, held in October.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Mefford were hosts to friends and relatives at a 6 o'clock dinner. Those present were: Mrs. Edith Neuwanger, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Samuel, Arch, Harley and Miss Margaret Mefford.

Pork, Veal, Lamb, Beef, Attractive Buys This Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
You'll find attractive buys in pork, beef, veal and lamb in many of the nation's food stores this weekend.

Meat prices in general are still heading lower, and judging from the record pileup of supplies, the end is not yet in sight. Last week production of government-inspected meat set an all-time record.

For the coming weekend one of the big food chains has trimmed prices of center cut pork chops in several major cities by amounts ranging from 6 to 19 cents a pound.

Lamb is down anywhere from two to six cents a pound. While beef prices are resisting the downward pull a little more effectively than pork and lamb, there are bargains aplenty.

Pork has been selected by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as its food headliner for this week.

The Department of Agriculture has singled out potatoes, rutabaga turnips and white turnips, beets, topped carrots, baby parsnips and kale as outstanding vegetable buys. Listed as good buys are new and old cabbage, beans, peppers, corn, egg plant, pascal celery, and lettuce.

the death of Lon A. Clowers, 73, of San Francisco, Calif., who passed away Tuesday. The deceased was born in Ashland and was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and a former member of the Ashland Masonic lodge. He was a brother of the late Edward and Cleve
Clowers of this city. Private fune-
